

Teatro Vittoria

via Antonio Gramsci, 4

“Teatro Vittoria” is a twelve year old child, that has enough seats to accommodate 200 people. It was designed by well-known architectural studios, that paid particular attention to ecology, making use of modern technology. Music, dance, and prose alternate in the programming; one room is dedicated to young people and their needs to demonstrate their own interests. The “Unione Musicale” association collaborates with the Teatro Vittoria that, through different projects and concerts seasons, encourages the divulgation of music culture as an important tool of knowledge.
