

Cascina Roccafranca

Via Edoardo Rubino, 45

Cascina Roccafranca is a cultural and recreational center that is owned by Borough 2. It is a place where you can take part in the local neighborhood and meet other city dwellers who share similar interest to you. In 2002 the farmhouse become the property of the City Council and it was renovated using eco-compatible technology but keeping its distinguished features and structural characteristics. Five spaces are available: the loft, space for games and baby parking; the stable, café and space for courses; the villa, eco-museum and offices; the barn, restaurant and polyvalent room; and the internal courtyard used as a corridor for passing through and a reception area.
