

European Choir Video Award

The results from the European Choir Video Award were announced last night in Piazza San Carlo on the main stage. After much deliberation over 24 choirs and vocal groups, the video award jury selected the top videos. In third place: Youth Choir Rondinella, a children's choir from Belgium, singing Vox Tronica-T. Stokes. In 2nd place: Sangforening, a female student choir from Oslo, Norway who performed Folkefrelsar. And finally, in first place, receiving the 1.000 euro prize money: Delta Q from Berlin, Germany. They are an acappella vocal group. They formed as a group only this year, in January, but have already won several competitions in Germany. Their cover of Adele's song Rolling in the Deep blew the jury away with its creativity, uniqueness and technical ability. Congratulations to Delta Q, the first winners of the European Choir Video Award!
