

Chiesa di San Dalmazzo

Via delle Orfane 3

Located in via delle Orfane, it was built in 1271 and completed in 1606 by the Barnabites, who provided to finish the facade and the Cappella della Madonna di Loreto.

The two aisles are interrupted by niches and altars as well as various encaustic painted figures. The pulpit is made of Carrara marble, on which stands out the canopy altar. The chapel of St. Paolo, on the right of the altar, is lit by a stained glass window representing many ecclesiastical figures commissioned by the Holy Order that took care of the Church interior.
